

EXPORT CONTROL CHECKLIST

Use this checklist to determine if export control regulations may apply to your project.

Does this project or agreement:

	YES	NO
Restrict researcher participation (i.e., faculty, student, others) based on country of origin or citizenship?
Require research participation in U.S.-citizen-only meetings?
Grant the sponsor a right of prepublication review for matters other than the inclusion of patent and/or proprietary sponsor information?
Provide that any part of the sponsoring, granting, or establishing documents may not be disclosed?
Limit access to confidential data or involve a controlled technology?
Involve research containing source code for encrypted software (other than publicly available software distributed at no charge)?
Involve research, information, or software that could be used in the development of weapons of mass destruction (i.e., nuclear, biological, chemical), or their delivery systems?
Involve equipment, software, services, or technology that is on the United States Munitions List (“USML”).
Involve equipment, software, services, or technology that is on the Commerce Control List (“CCL”).
Involve technical information or instructions concerning equipment, software, or technology on the USML or the CCL?
Provide data, services or conduct any transaction with a sanctioned and embargoed country as defined by the Office of Foreign Assets Control (“OFAC”)

If the answer to any of the above questions is “yes,” or other questions arise related to export controls, contact the Office of Research Integrity at (337) 482-1419 or ori@louisiana.edu.

If accepting proprietary information is part of the project:

	YES	NO
Is the information clearly identified?
Can the information be appropriately protected?
Can proprietary information be removed from research results, so that results may be freely published?

If the answer to any of the above questions about proprietary information is “no,” please contact the Office of Research Integrity at (337) 482-1419 or ori@louisiana.edu.
